

About

The California Coalition for Community Investment (CCCI) started in Fall of 2019 after a group of CDFIs convened to discuss the opportunities and resources that CDFIs utilize and need to support their California communities. The initial effort grew out of a mutual goal to reinstate the COIN CDFI Tax Credit and evolved into a larger discussion of how a state-level coalition could advocate for more resources and better policies to help support the work of CDFIs in California.

Members

CCCI is dedicated to having a diverse membership base, with leadership and involvement from CDFIs that vary in terms of asset size (small, medium and large), lending focus (housing, small business, consumer), geography and markets served.

2020 Goals

- Build membership for CCCI to include at least 50 California CDFIs
- Develop data and materials to educate policymakers about the work of CDFIs
- Pursue legislation to establish a California CDFI Fund, modeled after the federal program
- Advocate in the state budget process for funding for a CDFI state fund
- Support other efforts to expand resources and access for CDFIs

Membership Levels

CCCI wants to be as inclusive as possible and wants to encourage coalition participation regardless of asset size. We have developed the following membership levels to support a variety of CDFI structures.

- Small and emerging CDFIs – $300
- Assets of $10-50 million – $1000
- Assets over $50 million – $3000

Contact Information

CCCI was formed as an unincorporated association with RCAC acting as the fiscal agent and contracts with a legislative advocate in Sacramento.
